Veil of Mystery Shrouds Cause of Double Tragedy

BABE SEES FATHER SHOOT DOWN WIFE AND END OWN LIFE

Neighbors Do Not Know Cause of Tragedy, and Police Are Unable to Supply Motive.

DEATH NOTE LEAVES BURIAL INSTRUCTIONS

"I Am Sure God Will Take Care of the Poor Innocent Baby," Writes James Wadsworth.

John William Wadsworth is not as old as his name sounds: He saw things late yesterday afternoon that a fourteen-month-old smiling baby ought not to see. If the things he saw made any impression on his innocent little mind that has just begun to know the measure of love that is held in the words "papa" and "mama," little John William will never smile again. For he saw his father slay his mother and then slay himself, and couldn't do anything but whimper his fright and stir the tears of the neighbors who dashed into the scene of the double tragedy.

John William's father was James L. Wadsworth, and his mother, Mrs. Sarah Wadsworth. They lived in rented rooms at 407 Courtland street, and it was there that Wadsworth killed the woman whom he loved, and then turned the pistol on himself. The tragedy took place at 7:45 o'clock Monday afternoon. It was discovered by C. L. Stevens, who lives at the same address, and it was Mr. Stevens who picked up the whimpering little baby who had lost a father and a mother and didn't know what those shots or the blood or those stilled faces meant.

Plains Death Note.

Two hours afterward, an undertaker, preparing to embalm the bodies of the couple, started to remove Wadsworth's socks, and found in one of them the following note of directions:

"To Whom It May Concern: Notify and send my body to mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wadsworth, Hartsville, S. C. They will pay expenses with a broken heart. Notify Mr. and Mrs. J. D. King, Milledgeville, Ga., as to their daughter. As for the poor, innocent baby, I am sure God will take care of him. MURDER AND SUICIDE. (Signed, MURDER NIGHT), James L. Wadsworth. (Over)."

The reverse side of the note, pencilled in a fairly legible hand, on a 10-by-5 scrap of wrapping paper, read:

"Any debts which I owe in Atlanta my father will gladly but gladly pay for me. J. L. Wadsworth. 5-23-21."

No Hint of Cause.

The death message left no hint as to the reason for the gruesome act, and investigation thus far by the detective department has disclosed no motive for the deed.

Wadsworth had shot his wife three times with a Smith automatic pistol, and had then seated himself on a rocker and turned the same gun on himself and fired two shots through his forehead, the bullets entering only an inch apart.

The police department was in-

D. C. Lyle, Jr., Badly Injured When Drivers of Wrecked Cars Get Into Fight.

D. C. Lyle, Jr., of College Park, is at his home in a critical condition with a knife wound in his neck, and John Humphries, aged 25, an ex-soldier undergoing vocational training at the Georgia School of Technology, is in the Fulton county tower charged with operating an automobile while intoxicated and with assault with intent to murder. J. D. Winkles, town marshal of College Park, and others witnessing the incident, stated that Humphries was driving an automobile on Mercer avenue, College Park, Monday night. In the car with him, it was said, were Mrs. Allison and Miss Willie Ponder, of Hapeville, and two small children. In front of the Lyle residence Humphries' car collided with an automobile driven by V. P. Pace, a representative of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company of Atlanta.

The crash resulted in both cars being damaged and the occupants alighted, badly shaken up. The two small children, however, had been tossed from the car into the street.

Pace and Humphries. It was stated, advanced upon each other, and a heated argument ensued. D. C. Lyle, Sr., prominent College Park citizen, and his son, D. C. Lyle, Jr., attracted by the crash, hurried from their residence to the scene. As they approached, seeing that a fight was eminent, Lyle, Jr., attempted to act as peacemaker.

After Pace and Humphries had come to blows, however, Lyle reached down to pick up one of the children, and Humphries, infuriated at his interference, plunged a knife into his neck, just beneath his ear, according to witnesses.

The injured man was rushed to his home, where he is under the care of a physician.

Mr. Winkles arrested Humphries and rushed him to the Fulton county tower for safe keeping. The action of Humphries, police stated, was without provocation.

Mr. Lyle, Sr., is a prominent real estate man. His son, 16 years old, is well known in College Park, and has many friends.

D. I. MACINTYRE TAKEN BY DEATH

Prominent Insurance Man Had Been Ill One Week. Funeral Arrangements Not Yet Made.

D. I. MacIntyre, for twenty-six years numbered among Atlanta's leading citizens, and one of the foremost factors in the insurance world, died Monday afternoon at the residence, 33 East Fourteenth street. He came at 6 o'clock, following a week's illness.

He is survived by his wife; one son, D. I. MacIntyre, Jr., who is connected with the firm of which his father was a member, and five daughters, Mrs. H. A. McKee and Mrs. Frank R. Beall, of Atlanta; Mrs. John I. Scott, of Scottsdale, Ga.; Mrs. John Gates, of Syracuse, N. Y.; and Miss Margaret MacIntyre, who at the time of his death, was attending school in Hollings, Va.

Daniel Irwin MacIntyre was born in Thomas county, Georgia, October 8, 1860, the son of Archibald T. MacIntyre, native of the same county, a lawyer of eminence and who as a democrat was the first man elected to congress from the First congressional district of Georgia.

The Premier sent for German Ambassador Mayer Monday evening and informed him that France was surprised not to have received a reply to the note. He urged that Mayer telegraph immediately to Berlin, pointing out to his government the serious consequences of failing to close the frontier.

Briand "requested" a reply within 24 hours.

Premier Briand must make good or back down on his threat to advance into the Ruhr in the event of a "waiver" act by Germany in Upper Silesia if reports are confirmed that German troops have attacked the poles in the disputed territory. The only apparent way out of a tense situation is to have those German troops identified as Naevies of Upper Silesia. Just now they are identified as Prussians, Bavarians and Wurtembergers, well organized and operating with the connivance of the German government.

Premier Briand received the German ambassador, Dr. Mayer tonight, and deferred with him on the Silesian situation. It is understood that he requested the ambassador to ask the German government to end definitely all attempts at aggression in Silesia. Germany did not want to expose itself to reprisals by the allies.

A similar request was made to Dr. Stamer, the German ambassador at London.

FRANCE DEMANDS GERMAN SILESIA NOTE IN 24 HOURS

Sends Ultimatum for Attitude of Teutons on Sending of Supplies to Troops Fighting Poles.

London, May 23.—Protestation by high officials that the four battalions of British troops ordered to Upper Silesia by the British government are merely replacements cannot cloak the seriousness of the situation and the real significance of this movement.

ATTACK MAY CAUSE REAL ACTS OF WAR

Korfiaty's Forces Burn and Terrorize—Situation Held Grave—Allied Delegation to Seek Peace.

There will be no action, certainly, unless the Polish stage an attack and such an attack may bring about something approaching real warfare.

Conditions in Silesia are rapidly becoming worse. Looting and terrorizing are general in the villages, and Korfiaty's rebels have in many places broken loose from all restraint.

Apparently the Germans have regular army reserves at their disposal.

The Polish insurgents, according to dispatch, have been steadily consolidating their position and extending their control over the industrial districts of Silesia. They are reported to have succeeded in starting work again in mines, foundries and factories, and now are squeezing the allied authorities out of the towns they still occupy in order to complete their hold on the railway between Katowitz and Gliwicz.

Every sort of pressure is being exerted to compel the surrender of these important towns. No food is being allowed to enter them, but, as this has not proved effective, the water and electricity supplies of Katowitz were cut off yesterday.

DELEGATIONS SENT TO MAKE PEACE.

Paris, May 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—The allied high commission in Upper Silesia sent delegations to intervene with both the Germans and the Poles and endeavor to obtain the cessation of all military operations in that territory, according to French official dispatches today.

Each of the delegations is composed of representatives of France, Great Britain and Italy.

Paris, May 25.—France has sent Germany an ultimatum demanding that she give her reply within 24 hours to the French note which gave warning that the sending of German troops for munitions into Upper Silesia would be considered a warlike act.

The Premier sent for German Ambassador Mayer Monday evening and informed him that France was surprised not to have received a reply to the note. He urged that Mayer telegraph immediately to Berlin, pointing out to his government the serious consequences of failing to close the frontier.

RATE REDUCTIONS IN SOME CLASSES OF GOODS LIKELY

Rail Executives Have a Plan to Aid Commodities Suffering Most From High Freights.

CUT TO COME AFTER REDUCTIONS IN PAY

Officials Also Express Conviction That Rail Situation Is Past Crisis and Facing Prosperity.

Washington, May 23.—(By Constitution Leased Wire.)—It became known today that railroad executives have tentatively agreed to follow the wage reductions, ordered by the labor board, with rate reductions to take care of commodities which cannot pay the present level on an economic marketing basis.

The conviction that the railroad situation has "passed through its darkest hour and has now definitely turned for the better" is also expressed in statements filed with the committee on interstate commerce of the senate by prominent members of the association of railway executives.

The association, in an announcement, refers to the statements as "setting forth the belief of these executives that the railroad problems will be worked out satisfactorily under the existing law and manifesting a measure of optimism in regard to the future outlook."

The attitude taken by the railroad executives came as a comforting message to those who had heard gloomy reports to the effect that there was serious danger of many of the carriers going into the hands of receivers. There have been reports spread about, also, that government control or ownership might be the only cure. The statements put a somewhat different light upon the situation.

While the executives make no comment concerning the wage reductions which the railway labor board of Chicago has announced will be ordered on June 1, to be effective immediately after the recess for the summer.

CHIEF POOLE'S RECORD GOOD, DECLARES HINES

Asserts Prohibition Will Never Be Reinforced Until Wealthy People Back Officers in Work.

Atlanta's police department was caustically arraigned and severely indicted as either corrupt or incompetent on one hand, and was praised as efficient and charges against it denounced as persecution on the other hand, in powerful arguments submitted before the council investigating committee Monday by leading attorneys who have been conducting the "bunco ring" battle for the last seven weeks.

Eugene R. Black, special counsel for the citizens committee, called for a complete reorganization of the department while Judge James K. Hines, attorney for Chief of Detectives Lamar Poole and H. A. Allen, attorney for city detective W. L. Payne, defended the record of the department and made pleas for vindication of their clients.

Speeches of the attorneys lasted through a long session which began Monday morning and did not come to an end until nearly 6 o'clock Monday afternoon. It was announced at the conclusion of the session that the next meeting would be held at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night.

Attorney Black took up the evidence in the case from the start of the probe and asserted that testimony had been placed before the committee which was of such a conclusive nature that it demanded either a complete and thorough reorganization of the police department or an admission of complicity of police officials with criminal or of incompetence and unfitness of these officials.

Punctuating his speech with witty references and humorous allusions Mr. Black evoked much laughter from the crowd and one of the interesting features of the session was the laughter of the accused detectives at some of the pertinent thrusts made by the speaker.

One of the most important recommendations made in the argument of Mr. Black called for the abolition of the police board and the appointment of a man to serve as "supreme head" of the department with "full authority."

And if we haven't got the right man for chief we must get the right man," he suggested.

VARIED EMOTIONS FEATURE HARDING DAY IN NEW YORK

President Speaks Before American Dead, Before War Heroes and Before Business Men.

WELCOME OF CHILDREN IS MOST IMPRESSIVE

Chief Executive Speaks Promise of Economy in Government and Voices Prayer for Eternal Peace.

New York, May 23.—A nation so righteous and so just that "we shall never be called upon to make war so long as God and men rule together," was the prayer of President Harding as late today he reviewed survivors of the world war at a regimental review in Brooklyn.

"It must not be again," was his solemn declaration earlier in the day, when he attended a memorial service for the five thousand war dead on the great army pliers in Hoboken.

The same theme—spoken before the living and before the dead—brought tears to his eyes and to the eyes of those who had followed him through a day's program crowded with events. At a luncheon of the Academy of Political Science, and at a dinner celebrating the one hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary of The New York Commercial, he had expressed the need of putting the government on a business basis and of reconstructing the nation's business and industry. His audiences listened to his every word attentively, earnestly, but it was at the military functions that he stirred their emotions.

Roar of Guns.

And varied emotions have been the emotions of the president himself. First, a thrill at the roar of heavy guns, as the presidential yacht Mayflower steamed into New York harbor, and came to her anchorage amid the salutes of a hundred war-craft swinging on their lines in the Hudson.

Then the catching in the throat as he arrived in Hoboken at the barge of the dead, entered the shed-like piers which served as a temporary tomb for the thousands of brave lads whose flag-covered coffins covered the floor, row upon row, and laid upon the casket of humble private from Michigan—the first American killed on German soil—a wreath that served as a symbol for all the country's war dead.

And later the cheery welcome of children's voices—the voices of tens of thousands of children, waiting to greet him as he motored to Brooklyn through the city's cosmopolitan East Side. Then a quickening of the pulse when, in the 23rd regiment armory in Brooklyn, he saw survivors of the war-torn 106th saying bravely past him, rank after rank, at a review held in his honor.

Problem of Day.

And finally the laying aside for a moment of the emotions of the day to lay before his audience the problems that face post-war America in her reconstruction period.

The president's day in the metropolis was so crowded that he had scarcely a moment of rest from the time the Mayflower dropped anchor until he again boarded the yacht late tonight to return to the capital.

New York gave him an enthusiastic welcome. Great crowds cheered everywhere he went. The greeting that reached his heart, however, was that given by young America—the 250,000 school children who lined the streets.

Had More Pep.

One veteran theatergoer remarked as the crowd was filing out, "It's a shame to see the boys so happy."

JOHN ATWOOD TO MAKE ADDRESS OF OCCASION.

Melville Stone, Robert O'Brien, Representative of Massachusetts, and Others Arrive.

Complete arrangements have been made for the ceremonies in memory of Henry Woodfin Grady at the monument in Marietta street this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. Monday the speakers and distinguished men arrived, the last local preparations were consummated, and indications pointed to the foregathering of a tremendous crowd at the appointed time and place.

Melville E. Stone, for twenty-eight years the general manager of the Associated Press; John H. Atwood, prominent Kansas City, Mo., attorney and the speaker of the occasion; and Robert L. O'Brien, editor of The Boston Herald and the personal representative of Governor Channing Cox, of Massachusetts, were among the most prominent arrivals. W. H. Simple Ceremonies.

Extreme simplicity and the representative national tributes will feature the occasion. The grand arm of the republic's veterans will stand shoulder to shoulder with the thinning ranks of Confederate veterans; the school children of the city will in the morning hear tributes paid to Grady by the older citizens who knew the man personally—it will be an occasion which will include youth and north, young and old alike.

The address of Mr. Atwood will be the only address of the exercises. An invocation will be offered by Rev. W. H. Glenn, once Grady's pastor; the monument will be unveiled by little Betty Black, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene R. Black, Jr., and great-granddaughter of Grady; Mr. Atwood will speak; the wreaths will be placed on the monument by cities, organizations and individuals, and the benediction will be pronounced by Rabbi David Marx.

POLICE RAPPED AND LAUDED AT PROBE

Judge Hines made his chief argument in defense of Chief of Detectives Lamar Pool, in which he indirectly defended other members of the police department, including former Police Commissioner Aldine Chambers.

Judge Hines compared the record of Chief Pool with records of his predecessors in office, and asserted the present chief had been more active in arresting violators of the prohibition laws and gambling laws than had the men who had formerly served as head of the detective department.

Discussing violations of the prohibition laws, Judge Hines declared the charges against the Atlanta police department had "slandered" Atlanta's good name, and it would require years to counteract the evil effects of such statements and charges. He compared Atlanta with Savannah and other cities in the matter of prohibition law violations and said Atlanta was far ahead of other cities in the manner in which the city detective department and police department had waged a fight against law breakers.

Humor is injected.
Judge Hines injected some humor into his speech and made several thrusts at the solicitor-general's office in this connection. Discussing the enforcement of prohibition, he declared Atlanta could not be "closed up" until all the wealthy well-to-do people get behind the police department and back it up.

"If I were Chief Pool, I would raid the Capital City Club, the Piedmont Driving Club and other clubs just the same as I would raid anywhere else, if I believed the law was being violated there."

Attorney Allen was the last speaker of the day. He defended Detective Payne, said the evidence against his client was that of bootleggers and crooks, and declared the sole issue before the committee was whether or not it believed in the innocence of the officer.

Judge Hines speaks.
Judge J. K. Hines was the first speaker for the police department. "Mr. Black," he said, "made his usual brilliant and able address. I think he signally failed to make a case against the policemen."

"There has been a peculiar coalition in this case. What the best citizens in Atlanta unwittingly but nevertheless firmly united with the worst criminals of the city to break down the power of the police."

High Points in E. R. Black's Speech

Either through connivance, incompetency, or repeated coincidence the police of Atlanta have permitted a condition to exist here that is a disgrace to Atlanta.

That condition must be remedied. If it is to be remedied by abolishing the police board, abolish it. If the chief of police isn't big enough for the job—get another chief of police; but whatever you do, see that the chief of police is vested with supreme authority in his department.

John Boykin saw this condition and he had to yell it from the rooftops to arouse Atlanta to the danger which had threatened it. In all this six weeks of testimony, there hasn't been one bit of evidence adduced to show that Mr. Boykin has acted for any motive other than the good of Atlanta.

The police made a mistake when they singled out Joe Ewing as the object of their attack. Ewing may not be the greatest lawyer in the world, but he is the greatest evidence man. Give him the first letter of a man's name and he will be back at night with his family.

Lack of co-operation and co-ordination in the police department has been little short of criminal. It is an admission of guilt of the charge of inefficiency for the police to put in a plea in avoidance that they are underpaid, not trained, and recruited from a class unable to cope with skillful crooks.

ter, the solicitor-general invited every crook and bootlegger in the country to come forward and break down the power of the police. The shoes he is not worthy to lace," Judge Hines asserted.

Referring to the interview in The Constitution, Judge Hines said the solicitor-general had not charged the police with incompetency, but with corruption. Yet when he was invited to take the witness stand to prove his charges, he refused to do so.

He tried to hide behind the jurisdiction of the committee on the ground the committee had nothing to do with him," the defense attorney declared.

In discussing the Mills case, Judge Hines declared that the detective had done everything possible to get the case returned and that after the unsatisfactory verdict had been returned, he had laid down on the job.

of a lawyer Ewing is, but I do know that as an investigator he stands without peer. Give him the first letter of a man's name and he'll come back before night with that man's family tree. They chose to have that man Ewing say that Ewing was a bunko steerer and that was all Ewing needed. He went back with his affidavit and came never seen Ewing before in his life.

Unfortunate Move.
"This move of theirs was unfortunate, to say the least. It showed that the detectives had just picked up a poor boy and sought to damn him on baseless evidence."

"Now they have contended in avoidance that John Boykin has done something that has hindered or obstructed or delayed the police department."

"Now John Boykin isn't on trial, but I insist that they haven't produced any evidence to show that the police were ever hindered or obstructed in any way by the solicitor-general."

"When they tried to belabor the issue with a general attack on the fee system, now I'm not defending the fee system. I'm defending the fact that it never interfered with their performance of their duty."

"And yet when a man dares to arise and cry out against a system of plunder under which the city is suffering, he is pilloried because he happens to hold an office under which he is paid, and the fee system as provided by the laws of the state of Georgia."

Argument of Defense.
Mr. Black then took up the defense's argument that the system of forfeiting bonds in the courts of Fulton county had obstructed the police in their duty.

"That system has been in operation ever since Fulton county was first Fulton county, and not until Floyd Woodward was in the office, which the defense has followed, that this entire defense has been raised against it. The solicitor-general is the collecting officer of the state and has a right to set the bonds if he sees fit, and without being derelict in his duty."

"The bonds in the St. Allen case were not taken by John Boykin, but by the deputy sheriff who appointed them. Lay that charge at his own door."

Atlanta investigations. Harvey Hatcher, in his investigation, offered immunity and was upheld by Chiefs Pool and Beavers.

"Moreover, there was not a witness on this stand who testified that the police had offered him protection for his testimony. Every case they mentioned against John Boykin was covered in Floyd Woodward's letter. I would have pleaded guilty before I would have based my defense on the statement of a criminal who ended his known criminal career by being indicted for the murder of Ed Mills in the Ansley hotel."

Reviews Cases.
Mr. Black then reviewed the Page and Pafford case; the Farrier case; the Ward, Allen and Woodward case; showing that the activity of the solicitor had had nothing to do with the work of the police or detectives in these cases.

"He declared that when a good man went to the police for protection, the police were ready to protect him. Let's take whisky—a serious subject which affects two classes, the rich and the poor. The middle class needs protection. I want to reveal for a second the situation at 123 Martin street, where there were some decent negroes."

"Now, gentlemen, let's get to some of the specific charges against these men. Let's take whisky—a serious subject which affects two classes, the rich and the poor. The middle class needs protection. I want to reveal for a second the situation at 123 Martin street, where there were some decent negroes."

"Coincidence, protection or connivance," he said, "was the right word for the police to get their men there were some decent negroes."

"I don't know about the possibility of protection or about the morality of the federal officers—even if one was convicted in Savannah for giving protection to a man who was a partner in a gambling game, but I do know that the city police and despite the federal officers, Mr. McWhorter's business went on."

"I'm not going to talk about Mr. Payne's dark account. Mr. Allen will tell you about that. I am willing to grant Messrs. Payne and West were diligent officers; that they went with the federal officers to Mr. Payne's automobile; that they got paid for it; I am willing to grant that Mr. Payne has a right to love for money and that his expenditures were slight; it's to you gentlemen of the committee to decide whether or not the temptation was too great for him."

SOCIALISM TREND INDICATED BY KING

Washington, May 23.—Business men of the country were warned today by Senator King, democrat, Utah, that "if they keep on trying to destroy competition in business by tariffs and combines which challenge the right of consumers to live they will have socialism to face."

The senator, in an address in the senate, urged congressional investigation of lobbies in the national capitol, and particularly of efforts which he said were being made by dy interests to get tariff legislation.

"We are confronted," said the Utah senator, "with a gigantic conspiracy on the part of combinations and monopolies to dominate absolutely the markets of the United States, to maintain prices at high and unobtainable levels. We are taking to see here the reign of conspiracies, trusts and monopolies. They are here, and they will be here by scores, demanding their pound of flesh; to write the laws that will enable them to oppress to an intolerable degree the consuming public in this republic."

"I want to say to the American capitalist, the American business man, that it isn't only his duty to his country, but it is his duty to see that the laws of the country are not set at naught by these activities."

BUILDERS' SUPPLY MEN MEET IN CHATTANOOGA

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 23.—The officers and board of directors of the Southeastern Builders' Supply association are holding their quarterly session here today to discuss business conditions.

Present are W. W. Fischer, Memphis, president; W. E. Law, Jacksonville, Fla., secretary; Richard Hawkins, Birmingham, vice president; H. T. Buren, Augusta, Ga., treasurer.

Volunteer Police Scour Mountains On Tug in Vain

Williamson, W. Va., May 23.—Volunteer policemen commanded by Captain Brockus today scoured among the mountains bordering the Tug river where for more than a week hidden riflemen have fired upon mining villages. They were unable to locate a single sniper and returned here with the report that the entire front was quiet.

John S. Hill, chief deputy sheriff of Mingo county, traversed the border line today and reporting to the sheriff's office here, said there had been no disturbance since Saturday when yesterday the head house of a coal company was burned, he said that unusual quiet prevailed.

Major Tom Davis, representing Governor Morgan in the enforcement of martial law, spent the day visiting mining villages that were under fire last week.

MEMORIAL PLANNED FOR HEROES OF WAR

A pledge of love to those who fought and fell in the world war, as well as honor to those who lived, will be given by Atlanta from 5 to 6 o'clock at the Howard theater. Veterans of the Confederate and Union armies and of the Spanish-American war will take part in the memorial service, as well as men who served in the populated fields of Florida.

The memorial service has been arranged as part of a nation-wide observance of May 30 as World War Memorial day. The symbol of the day's event will be the crimson poppy, flower of heroic associations, thousands of which are to be distributed in Atlanta Saturday morning from 5 to 6 o'clock at the Howard theater. Veterans of the Confederate and Union armies and of the Spanish-American war will take part in the memorial service, as well as men who served in the populated fields of Florida.

Observance of the day follows adoption of the poppy as memorial flower by the American Legion, the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Service Star Legion, women's auxiliaries of the American Legion, and other patriotic organizations.

Every agency in Atlanta whose cooperation in the memorial service was sought has responded eagerly. A regulation against use of the Howard theater on Sunday, heretofore rigorously enforced, was suspended for the occasion, by Dan Michalove, director of theaters for the Southern Enterprises.

Mayor Fowle McWhorter will be general chairman of the memorial service. Invitations to attend have been sent Governor Dorsey, Mayor E. C. C. commanding and executive officers of the military posts about Atlanta, heads of women's patriotic and memorial associations and other leaders.

U. S. NAVAL RELIC VICTIM OF BLAZE AFTER EXPLOSION

New York, May 23.—The New York naval militia training ship Granite State, a relic of America's early naval forces, which for years has been tied up at the foot of West Ninety-seventh street, caught fire late today. The ship, which was built in 1818, and was originally the New Hampshire, was damaged with destruction along with barracks nearby.

Scores of sailors from destroyers anchored in the river, assisted the firemen. Several of the sailors were overcome by smoke, but none seriously.

The training ship, U. S. S. New York, moored alongside Granite State, was towed to mid-stream, as the pier burst into flames.

Sailors removed several torpedoes from the Granite State. The fire-fighters conceded that the ship was doomed.

The fire started from an explosion aboard a tender moored alongside. Sailors jumped into the river when escape seemed cut off.

LAST SERVICES HELD FOR JOS. GREGG, SR.

Funeral services of Joseph Gregg, Sr., 72 years old, prominent Atlanta grain dealer, who died Sunday at his residence, 324 Lake avenue, were held at 11 o'clock Monday at the chapel of H. M. Patterson & Son, in West View cemetery.

The pallbearers were William Davis, Harwell, Tully, J. Burke, A. Holbrook, Earl Waldrop, W. J. Crosswell, J. R. Bachman, L. O. Hoppe and George C. Smith.

Mr. Gregg was the head of Joseph Gregg & Son, grain dealers, where he was actively engaged until three months ago, when his health began to fail.

Mr. Gregg is survived by his wife, Mrs. Eloise C. Gregg; one son, Joseph Gregg, Jr., of Atlanta, and three daughters, Mrs. U. S. Walker, Daniels, Mrs. Herbert C. Arms and Mrs. Armin O. Kuehnstedt, all of Chicago.

E. W. MARTIN'S FATHER INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Edmund W. Martin, prominent Atlanta attorney, of 150 Peachtree avenue, left on the Dixie Flyer, Monday for the bedside of his father, Col. John M. Martin, who is suffering from a serious accident in Pensacola, Fla., in which he received a broken hip.

Col. Martin, the last surviving member of the Confederate Congress, was colonel of the ninth Florida regiment, and was with Lee when he surrendered at Appomattox Court House.

SWEET POTATO CHARMS PALATES OF BRITISH

Washington, May 23.—The succulent sweet potato of the south, apparently, tastes as good in England as it does at home, and possibilities of shiploads going overseas, to brighten life for the British housewife and tinkle the plate of the British people, are seen by government experts.

A recent trial shipment of 600 pounds, sent from Georgia under ventilation to Liverpool, arrived in fine shape, and the agriculture department announced today, and while almost unknown in foreign markets, found a quick sale for British tables. Further experiments are to be made in hope of creating a foreign demand for sweet potatoes.

HOSE AND UNDERWEAR CONVENTION ON JUNE 1

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 23.—The annual convention of the southeastern division of the National Association of Hose and Underwear Manufacturers is scheduled to meet here June 1. This meeting will bring together between seventy-five and one hundred leading textile men of this section.

"Stable Money League" Is Plan Of U. S. Bankers

Washington, May 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—An interpretation addressed to the government by the bourgeois parties in the reichstag declares there is too much drinking of alcoholic stimulants in Berlin and other cities and charges that the growth in the number of bars is furthering inebriety to an alarming extent. The government is asked in the interpretation when it purposes to present the long-awaited reform of the law for combating drunkenness.

As a result of Germany's reparations obligations, the government probably will call on the people to practice sobriety in other directions. The Probst, the organ of the independent socialists, reminds the government of the provision of the constitution which permits it to confiscate privately owned jewelry and gems if the public welfare demands such action. In this manner, the newspaper declares, several billion marks could be raised without inflicting undue hardship on the people and the yield would prove a material asset to the reichsbank.

Mathias Erzberger, the former vice chancellor, is reported to be advocating during a tour west, Germany the seizure of privately owned gold and silver, immediate imposition of a heavy tax, and the enforcement of several socialization schemes.

Erzberger Blames "Expensive Peace" On Simon's Tactics

Berlin, May 23.—Mathias Erzberger, former vice chancellor, writing in the Tagblatt yesterday, says that Germany has not the treaty of Versailles, but rather the course pursued by the German ministry during the last year for her "expensive peace," particularly Foreign Minister Simon's "policy of the fifty billion gold marks," through useless delay.

He likens the situation that following the Franco-Prussian war when he said that Germany also incurred a measureably increased France's bill.

"Let us be perfectly frank," Erzberger writes; "we are paying for Simon's ministry and not in consequence of the Versailles treaty."

GERMANY STARTS HER PROSECUTION OF WAR CRIMINALS

Paris, May 23.—Germany has begun compliance with another of the demands made by the allies in the London ultimatum of May 5—the trial of war criminals, according to a dispatch from Berlin today.

The message announces that the high court organized by Germany for this purpose had instituted the trials demanded by the allies, beginning the proceedings by placing in trial a former German non-commissioned officer, Sergeant Heyne. The defendant is accused of ill-treatment of prisoners of war in the camp at Herne, in Westphalia.

McRae Tops Quota In Church Drive For School Funds

McRae, Ga., May 23.—(Special.)—With McRae given the assignment to raise the largest quota for the Christian education movement of any church or community in the Macon district of the south Georgia conference, announcement was publicly made here last night by S. P. Aiken, local director of the campaign, that the city had already obtained subscriptions totaling considerably more than the amount assigned to her to be raised. The South Georgia college, which is located here, will receive benefits from this campaign, and local people are highly enthusiastic notwithstanding adverse business conditions.

The announcements were made in the college auditorium last night at the conclusion of a sermon by Rev. Dr. C. R. Jenkins, of Fort Valley, who was heard dead in the commencement sermon at the morning hour, and to preach again at the evening hour.

With an assigned quota of $10,000 combined totals of local teams reaching up to last night amounted to $21,765, with the time set for the beginning of the campaign through southern Methodism one week off. A community team composed of non-members and members of other churches reported having raised over $3,000.

TRIAL OF EX-CASHIER CONTINUED AT MACON

Macon, Ga., May 23.—(Special.)—The case of the state against U. H. Patrick, former cashier of the Citizens Bank of Cochran, indicted under charges of forging the signatures of the directors of the bank to stock certificates, valued $4,000 and selling them to the fourth National Bank of Macon, was continued here today for term. The continuance was due to the fact that the chief witness for the state is in Chicago. The defense announced ready.

Patrick is under fourteen indictments in Bleckley county, charging him with embezzling approximately $100,000 from the bank, which he was cashier at the time of his disappearance. These cases will be dispensed of by the term of the Bleckley superior court.

SAVANNAH PREPARES TO WELCOME GAS MEN

Savannah, Ga., May 23.—(Special.)—Numerous entertainment features have been prepared for the benefit of the gas men at the thirteenth annual convention of the Southern Gas association, which will convene here today.

May 31. The meetings of the gas men will continue through Thursday.

Tuesday evening, through the courtesy of Mayor M. M. Stewart, there will be a street dance for the entertainment of the visitors. Following a get-together breakfast in the Dixie Hotel, in the morning, an address of welcome will be delivered by Mayor Stewart.

During the period of the convention the time will be made to pass pleasantly for the delegates by numerous dances, banquets and luncheons. A searchlight drill from Fort Screven, by courtesy of Colonel Wyke, will be one of the entertainments provided for the visitors.

CHINA AND GERMANY DECLARE WAR OVER

Paris, May 23.—A state of peace between China and Germany has been declared, according to advices received here. An agreement to this effect was necessary as China was not a signatory of the treaty of Versailles, and such an agreement between the two nations, it is stated, was signed at Peking, May 23.

The declaration of the state of war and re-establishes diplomatic and commercial relations.

U. S. FRIENDSHIP VITAL, SAYS SMUTS

Will Form Organization to Standardize Dollar's Purchasing Power.

Washington, May 23.—The present American dollar is all wrong—what America needs is a dollar that will always buy a dollar's worth of life necessities.

With this doctrine established as a promise, leading American bankers, business men and economists will meet here next Saturday to organize the "stable money league."

The purpose of the organization is to stabilize the purchasing power of the dollar.

"Every standard has been established except the standard of purchasing power," says a preliminary statement from the organization committee. "During and since the war the dollar has danced so wildly up and down that business men, housewives and statesmen are all aroused about the way of it and how to stop it. We all want a dollar which will buy a dollar's worth of the necessities of life at all times. We want a stable purchasing unit. The stable money league is the first organized attempt to define and secure such a unit."

George Foster Peabody, director of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, Treasurer Irving Fisher, of Yale university, and former Governor Frank G. Davenport, of Illinois, are among the backers of the movement.

KEA IS FOUND GUILTY OF ACCEPTING BRIBES

Savannah, Ga., May 23.—A. M. Kea, former deputy United States marshal, convicted on Saturday in the federal court of accepting money from liquor dealers for immunity from arrest, was fined $1,000 and sentenced to 18 months in federal prison, today.

Kea was convicted on sixteen counts of accepting money for protection.

He declared himself to be the victim of circumstances, and no more guilty than Judge Evans himself, in imposing sentence upon the former federal agent, Judge Evans expressed regret at the necessity of passing sentence upon a white man who had been an officer of his court.

The trial of J. A. Woods, former chief of the Savannah police, was set for Monday, when "Tebé Moye, prohibition agent, will also be placed on trial.

FORMER RECLAMATION CHIEF FOUND DEAD

Chicago, May 23.—Edmund T. Perkins, former president of the National drainage congress and once head of the government reclamation service in Chicago, was found dead in his room in the University club Saturday. Death was believed to be due to heart disease. He was 42 years old.

FAMOUS ACTRESS AND AUTHOR DIES IN ENGLISH HOME

London, May 23.—Lady Bancroft, noted actress and author, died yesterday at Folkestone.

Lady Bancroft, whose maiden name was Marie Effie Wilton, was married to Sir Squire Bancroft in 1867. She left her family, which was one of the oldest in Gloucestershire, very early in life to become an actress, playing child's parts. She appeared on the stage after her marriage to Sir Squire, who was for twenty years manager of the old Price of Wales and Haymarket theaters, during which modern revival of the stage was started. The noted couple retired in 1885. Lady Bancroft was the author of several books.

BOMB IS THROWN AT NEWSPAPERMAN

Cork, May 23.—A bomb was thrown at four members of the night staff of The Cork Examiner as they were on their way home early today.

CURVE DISCOVERED BY BALY IS WRONG, CLAIM OF SCIENCE

Cambridge, Mass., May 23.—Baly's curve, the inaccurate one to the layman, this may suggest a ball game, but to chemists, physicists and oxygen manufacturers the curve is likely to prove startling. It is vouched for by the Harvard engineering school, known as Baly's curve, has been accepted as a statement of fundamental law. Professor Harvey N. Davis, of the engineering school, announced yesterday that recent experiments had resulted in the discovery that the curve is wrong.

A. K. Dunbar, a member of the research group in cryogenic engineering at the school, made the discovery while doing some work in helium in behalf of the government.

SCREVEN FORMS BRANCH COTTON ASSOCIATION

Sylvania, Ga., May 23.—(Special.)—A branch of the Georgia Cotton Growers Co-operative association was formed here Monday. Following the meeting 2,000 bales of the staple were signed up. The association pledged itself to secure between 50 per cent and 90 per cent of the cotton grown in Screven county this year, before July 15.

J. H. Evans was chosen president of the Screven branch of the association. Talks were made by J. T. Brown, commission agent, culture, C. H. Hollingsworth, E. K. Overstreet, and several others. There were about 500 present at the meeting.

Union Services at Smyrna

Smyrna, Ga., May 23.—(Special.)—Union tent services opened here Sunday with a record-breaking attendance, and manifestation of intense interest. The services will be continued for two weeks. Rev. J. L. Truitt, an evangelist of wide reputation, preached forceful and appealing sermons Sunday.

Choose ARCOLA Heat

for Your New House (Or Old Home)

Ideal-ARCOLA Heating Outfits

Don't let your effort to "keep the price down" override your best judgment to have an Ideal-ARCOLA Hot Water Heating Outfit in your home. You build about once in a lifetime—but you buy fuel and need warmth and comfort every year. The ARCOLA pays for itself and cuts down the yearly fuel bill.

The reduced cost of Ideal-ARCOLA Heating Outfits has placed hot water heating within the reach of all. ARCOLA Outfits are made on the same principle and with the same guarantee as our larger IDEAL Heating Outfits for big houses. The only difference is in the smaller size and lower cost. If you are building, the cost of an Ideal-ARCOLA Heating Outfit may be saved by omitting extra chimney required by stoves; leaving out grates and mantels, useless doors, storm sash, etc.

Economy, Durability and Safety

Made in sizes for small buildings. Installed in a few days. Gives you comfort for a lifetime. The lowest yearly cost for fuel. Many owners tell us they heat ALL their rooms with an ARCOLA with less fuel than was formerly required to warm a few rooms in spots, with stoves. In these days of high-priced fuel this feature ought to be the deciding one. The ARCOLA uses coal, coke, wood, gas or oil. No more permanent or profitable investment can be made for your old or new home. Also used in stores, schools, offices, flats, etc.

Right Heating at Your Price

Get an estimate for an Ideal-ARCOLA Heating Outfit for your OLD or NEW house from any heating contractor. It can be put in at any time quickly and easily. Present prices are a great inducement. Phone, call or write for illustrated catalog.

EMERGENCY-TARIFF UP TO PRESIDENT

House Adopts Conference
Report After Brief Debate by Overwhelming Majority.

Washington, May 22.—The house today adopted the conference report on the emergency tariff bill, which now goes to the president.

The house vote was 245 to 97 and it came after less than 30 minutes' debate, thus completing the measure's second trip through congress since it was brought out last December 22. Democrats who opposed the tariff bill in all of its forms made little attempt to delay the final action.

Representative Garner, of Texas, a democratic member of the ways and means committee, declared the republicans had taken care of all of their industrial interests by including compensatory provisions and building a barrier against imports by use of the anti-dumping and dye control sections of the law.

Chairman Fordney, of the ways and means committee, announced that the general tariff bill, now under consideration by his committee, would include provision for the American valuation of imports, in ## view of this, Mr. Fordney said, the house conferees made no particular fight for the retention of such a provision in the temporary measure.

POLICE DEPARTMENT RAPPED AND LAUDED

with Frank Berry about the cashing of some checks for some sports, where and those sports? What were their names? Why were they not produced?

"Atlanta has a right to have a knife put to the root of this situation."

Taking up the gambling situation, Mr. Black first discussed the San Souci hotel.

"Woodward," he said, "started the gambling house there in 1918. He operated it 'sans soul,' which means without care. He told his patrons to put their money down 'sans soul' and he took their money by and went by. He saw the arrangement of the doors."

He finally went inside and observed and went on. Detective Jones also went in looking for a pickpocket, paused to take a drink and went on. And all this time, the dice rolled merrily.

"About this time, Slim Dunning opened up in the same neighborhood, and he was raided three times in one week and then he sold out to Floyd Woodward and the raiding stopped."

"Then there was the Central avenue place with men going in and out every day all day and all night. And there has been proof that the police were repeatedly notified but when they finally raided the place, all they could find was a buffet supper? What that convivance, in competency, or coincidence?"

"It got pulled once, by accident. Officer Shumai called for help but didn't say what he wanted with it. They pulled 26 men, they got everybody but Floyd Woodward and Bob Jones, as sweet a fellow as he is, actually has the nerve to tell you that's the right way to grab crooks," he said.

He then went into the Mills case, declaring after a taxidermy view of the evidence that the police had accepted everything that Woodward had told them and the perjured testimony of the Ansley detectives.

In concluding, Mr. Black said: "I have showed you a condition, a condition that must be remedied. It is your work to tell how this shall be done."

He was loudly applauded and the committee recessed until 2:30 o'clock.

VARIED EMOTIONS FEATURE HARDING DAY

3 miles of the route to the Brooklyn armory.

These children, granted a half-holiday, stood in a drizzling rain, waving flags and cheering wildly as the presidential car came in sight. The treble of their childish voices rose in a mighty crescendo that brought radiant smiles from the president and Mrs. Harding.

Greets Children.

The youngsters of New York's low east side, with its polyglot population, gave him the noisiest greeting. Once the president ordered his car stopped while he stepped out into the rain and shook hands with a number of little girls.

"I never knew there were so many children in America," the president said. "It was wonderful."

Another demonstration of youthful patriotism that pleased the president was a serenade by the boys' band of four hundred pieces. Returning to his hotel in Manhattan from the regimental review, he ordered his car stopped while he spoke a few words of appreciation to the young musicians.

At the conclusion of the military review in Brooklyn, the president walked across the hall to a group of 32 wounded soldiers from the Fox Hills hospital, Staten Island.

"How are you, boys? I wish I could shake you all by the hand," he said.

Tears in Eyes.

Mrs. Harding meantime stopped to shake the hand of a paralyzed soldier and her eyes filled with tears as she took a pink rose from her gown and pinned it upon his blouse.

The co-operation of every factor of American business and industry put the nation's house in order after the dislocations of war was bespoken by the president tonight at a dinner celebrating the 125th anniversary of the New York Commercial.

Agriculture, labor and business management, the president declared, all must stand together in the confident purpose of sound reconstruction. He asserted that although the United States did not want to live in isolation or selfishness, its duties to the rest of the world could best be performed by giving its

Georgia Hotel Men Convene Tuesday For Spring Meet

The fifteenth annual spring meeting of the Georgia Hotel Men's association will convene in Atlanta Tuesday with headquarters at the Ansley hotel. Prominent hotel men from all parts of the state will attend this session as it is known from past meetings of the association that the open discussions of various hotel problems have proved of great value.

James F. DeJarnette, manager of the Cecil hotel, is president of the organization, and Fred Hauser secretary. A business session is scheduled for Wednesday morning and luncheon will be served the delegates at White Provision company's plant at 1:30 o'clock. An automobile ride about the city will be a feature of Wednesday afternoon's entertainment program.

Mayor Key will give an address of welcome at the initial session Tuesday morning in the Ansley hotel. Dr. Craig Arnold, proprietor of the Mountain Inn, at Dahlonega, will respond. Other short addresses will be delivered by Louis Hennessey, New Orleans; J. H. Whitney, Jacksonville; and W. E. Thompson, Atlanta.

On Tuesday evening a banquet to be held in the Wincoff hotel has been arranged, followed by a theater party to the Howard theater, the guests of Dobbs & Wey company.

RECEPTION AT HOME FOR NURSES THURSDAY

One hundred and five nurses of the nurses' home of the Georgia Baptist hospital will be guests at a reception to be given Thursday afternoon by the Woman's Auxiliary of this institution. Mrs. F. J. Paxton is chairman of the committee on entertainment.

The officers of the Woman's Auxiliary are Mrs. Sam D. Jones, president; Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin, first vice president; Mrs. Paxton, second vice president; Mrs. James L. Key, recording secretary; Mrs. P. Anderson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Samuel Wilke, treasurer and Mrs. Charles C. Mitchell, auditors.

Mrs. Jones announced that on June 5 a tablet to the memory of Capt. Joseph Brown Connally would be unveiled in a beautiful room in the institution furnished by the mother of Captain Connally, Mrs. E. L. Connally, of 55 Ashby street. This will be a special occasion as the tablet marks the 100th anniversary of the death of the hero of the war. The unveiling exercises will be scheduled as speakers.

HUGHES TO TACKLE JAP MATTER NEXT

BY ROBERT J. BENDER.
United States Correspondent.

Washington, May 23.—The next in order of foreign business for the American state department is Japan.

President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes have set in motion American participation in European councils to protect this country's rights in that field. They have sent George Summerlin to Mexico City with the formula upon which they seek to get friendly cooperation between Mexico and the United States definitely under way after years of instability.

While watching developments of the start made in these two directions, therefore, Secretary of State Hughes may well be expected to be about clearing his desk of the extraneous matters clogging progress toward a settlement of the try-questions before the United States and Japan.

Tap comes first. Considerable has been made of the tap issue, but it really is only a small phase of the American-Japanese situation. It is for the moment, more of a talking point than anything else. And there is reason to believe that informal discussions which must be cleared up entirely satisfactory to the United States. There are, however, major questions which must be cleared up. First, the California land and Japanese immigration question.

Second, the question of when and under what conditions Japan is to return Shantung to China.

Third, the question of when and under what conditions Japan is to withdraw her troops from Siberia.

Fourth, the broad question of the open door in the Far East.

"O it softly, Sis, they may hear you. It's not a new one. I saw Van giving it a coat of something or other, day before yesterday. I called over to him, and he said it was Low Brothers Automobile Varnish Color. Kind of smiled to myself, thinking it would never be dry for this picnic. But look at it."

Shines like a bottle and seems hard as glass.

Makes our good old boat look kind of grey, doesn't it? Tell you, Sis—I'll get a can of dark blue and one of black and put it on our car, myself. By jimminy—we'll show Van there are a lot of others who can also afford a shining new car!"

Part of Address.

"Everywhere we turn, we note that government has in recent time assumed a more complex character. It has become more and more a part of our life, and it is ever sustained before. The mobilization of man-power, industrial resources, and the resources, which was made necessary in the war's exigencies, has been continued by the government. Those powers were exerted in the most extreme and stupendously important results were attained. As a result of that mobilization, government's capacity to force great results in emergencies, there has been a school shown in the world which assumes that even in time of peace the same automatic action of government is necessary in the general interest. Many men thoughtlessly urge that government should be controlled, even the conduct of many industries and facilities during the war, there followed a great increase in wages, a vast expansion of business activity, and profits, the same liberalization in compensation and the same intense business activity."

"Those who look below the surface of these things will which governments accomplished during the war, were accomplished at a staggering cost, cost which society could not bear for long; a cost that has left society burdened with debts which mortgage generations of the future. They know that the feverish seeming of prosperity was not genuine, but was possible only because society was literally burning up its stocks of capital; and that this destruction of capital was responsible for the economic depression which are now felt universally. In this process the burdens of government were immensely increased, and it is for us now to find means of lightening that burden."

Under Obligations.

"Government, to a greater extent now than ever before, is under obligation to give the greatest service for the lowest possible cost."

"To bring economy and efficiency into government is a task second to none in difficulty. For the government, by the government, have any conception of the growth of government business in the last decades before the world war; still fewer at all realize the pace to which that growth has been speeded up since the war started."

"Fortunately, the prospect is not so hopeless as might appear, because the present organization is so bad that the instant application of a few established principles of sound business organization will result in immediate economies and provide a margin of available means to meet new demands. The party in power is pledged to economy and efficiency, and you may be assured that every energy is being directed to redeem that pledge to the last degree and with all promptness."

"At the beginning of his administration, President Taft secured from congress the establishment of an economy and efficiency commission. It made a comprehensive survey of activities, organization and personnel of the whole government establishment. A representative of the executive will serve with the committee so that there is now in progress a thorough study of the whole problem. The task will require some time, and ultimate results must await it."

"But meanwhile, we shall, I trust, have a budget system in operation under the law, before the opening of the new fiscal year. Establishment of a budget program will not do everything. There must still be much continuing effort to keep expenses down, to insure full value for every dollar of the taxpayers' money the government spends."

"Too much stress cannot be laid on the fact that eternal vigilance is the price of economy and efficiency. It requires persistent, determined, stony-hearted devotion to the public interest. There must be utter sacrifice of all sympathy for the place-holders whose real reason for keeping his position is that he wants the salary. The men who conscientiously and intelligently do their work must not expect to popularize themselves with the office-holders or with the liberal spender. Even the administration which devotes itself selflessly to such work must understand that it will lose a good deal of immediately loyalty on the part of a certain class of politicians, and will not be compensated to it at once in the appreciation of the public; for the public will have the deep, immediate interest, or the active concern, which will animate the person who finds himself being pried loose from the purse strings."

"Nevertheless, rankless and ungracious as the task will be for most of those who devote their efforts to it, it is being attacked, with all determination. We shall need the aid of enlightened public opinion, and realizing this, I am glad that such bodies as the Academy of Political Science, the United States chamber of commerce, the engineering societies and business organizations generally are studying and discussing these questions. Out of such councils will come true appreciation of the difficulties and magnitude of government business, a larger sense of public responsibility and a highly desirable co-operation between public and private business for the common good."

MANY ARE KILLED IN EGYPT RIOTING

Natives Reported as Attacking and Slaying the Europeans in Outbreak at Alexandria.

Alexandria, Egypt, May 23.—Five Europeans were killed and seventy-two others wounded in rioting here Sunday night and this morning, it was announced at noon today. The police casualties were not given out.

It was officially announced this afternoon that 23 persons had been killed and 130 wounded.

BRITISH TROOPS TAKE CHARGE.

London, May 23.—Many persons are reported to have been killed in an outbreak in Alexandria, Egypt, where natives attacked Europeans, says a Reuters dispatch from that city.

British troops have arrived and taken charge of the town. It is rumored the outbreak arose from the killing of a native by a Greek, which led to attacks by the natives and students on Greeks and other Europeans.

Ambulances were busy all night taking the wounded to hospitals. Many fires were started and in one district it was reported that people were burned alive.

Mobs during the night smashed windows for hours and this morning all business establishments are closed.

Before the arrival of the soldiers this morning, Europeans had gathered at the government offices, demanding protection or permission to protect themselves. They greeted the troops upon their arrival with great enthusiasm.

A dispatch from Cairo to the Exchange Telegraph company reports many dead lying in the streets of Alexandria. One report states two Europeans were drowned with petrol and burned in the streets. On Sunday evening it is known some benzine stores near the Alexandria docks were ransacked.

A band of 1,500 armed Bedouins, says the Cairo message, is reported to be advancing on Ramleh, five miles northeast of Alexandria, "to participate in a general revolution which but for the presence of the British may succeed." Many telephone lines have been cut. Cairo, adds the message, is in an excited state but no disorders have developed there.

LUNCHEON PROCEEDS TO HELP CHURCH FUND

The ladies' auxiliary of the Georgia A. V. U. Presbyterian church will serve a business men's luncheon in the rooms of the Billy Sunday club in the Gould building on Wednesday and Thursday of this week and next week, between 12 noon and 2 p. m.

This announcement was made Monday, with the explanation that the proceeds from the sale of these luncheons will go to the work of rebuilding the church, recently destroyed by fire.

Bunco Probe Pales Into Insignificance For Attorney Jones

As Son "Bobby" Wins First Golf Match Father Exudes a Justifiable Pride.

BY PAUL WARWICK.

The outcome of the bunco investigation and the inability of Attorney Bob Jones to keep his mind on the business of probing featured the Monday morning session of the bunco investigation, wherein the eloquence of Eugene R. Black got under way.

Chief Beavers didn't come right out and say that he was absolutely sure the investigation will leave him a job as Atlanta's police chief, but the chief was resplendent in a spanking new uniform, new coat, new trousers, new eagles on his shoulders, new service stripes on his arms, just as new as a new dime. Pardon a bit of deduction, but would the chief have bought that new uniform if he thought he would lose his job, would he now?

Deduction and sartorial splendor combine to remind us of Dr. Horace Grant. Dr. Grant has always reminded the writer of some famous somebody besides Dr. Grant, and it took some time to discover the identity of his double. Sherlock Holmes, or I'm a liar! Smoking his meerschaum pipe, sitting in his chair, with his feet on the committee, a cynical smile playing on his lips, you almost expect him to pull out a violin and start a tune, or state at the conclusion of a lawyer's question—What is the perfectly simple, as I was telling Watson.

Breezy As a Corpse. But don't get the opinion that Dr. Grant and Chief Beavers had a monopoly on the tailored magnificence. Harry Goodhart looked as breezy as a corpse in a natty light gray suit; just as chipper as you please.

But the most interesting thing of all was the inability of Attorney Bob Jones to keep his mind on his business. Nobody blames him. For had he today, he would have brought the news from Hoylake that Atlanta's son Bobby was showing the staid old Britons to play snipe golf? Can a man be expected to think probe when the front pages of his paper are plastered with the triumphant exploits of his son? Hardly. Mr. Jones fairly exuded a modest and justifiable pride in the accomplishments of the younger Jones.

The press table worked a bit more feverishly than usual Monday morning. Before the session started, Mr. Black let fall the idea that it might be a good idea for the attorneys in the probe to give the newspaper men a dinner to see the probe has closed. Then the suggestions started flocking in.

Fuzzy Woodruff led off with the move that the dinner be held in the chicken house on Mitchell street. Somebody countered this with the proposition that Nat McWhorter be employed as caterer. Then came the suggestion that the dinner be held in the chicken house on Mitchell street.

Joe Ewing may have confidence in the outcome of the probe, and Joe may not, but he was one of the few in the house not clad in new clothes. Mr. Black paid him a tribute that would have delighted the heart of Scotland Yard. 'Twas thus: "Give Joe Ewing the first letter in a man's name, and he'll return by nightfall with the fellow's family tree."

EFFORT TO WRECK TRAIN DELIBERATE, SAY OFFICIALS

Paducah, Ky., May 23.—What railroad officials said probably was a deliberate attempt to take human life failed early today when Illinois Central fly No. 103, Louisville to New Orleans, was derailed at Epperson, five miles from here. Three coaches and a locomotive were partly overturned, but no one was seriously injured although many passengers received bruises.

Railroad detectives and county officials called to the wreck found angle bars and spikes removed from several lengths of track and the rails so wrecked, they said, that they could not support the train. The engine rode over the break without derailing, but the steel coaches were unable to remain on the track. The train was said to be traveling 20 miles an hour.

Epperson people reported seeing two men in the vicinity just before the wreck and bloodhounds were sent for to take up a possible trail. A wrench which railroad detectives said apparently was used in weakening the rails was found nearby. County officers said they expected an arrest soon.

FUNERAL SERVICES TAKE PLACE TODAY OF MRS. CRUMLEY

Funeral services of Mrs. W. M. Crumley, 65 years old, wife of W. M. Crumley, president of Crumley-Sharp Hardware company, who died Sunday evening at her residence, 18 Inman circle, will be held at 11 o'clock today, at the home, with Revs. C. J. Harrel and W. T. Glenn officiating. Interment will be private, in Oakland cemetery.

Mrs. Crumley was for many years prominent in church and civic work. She is survived by her husband; one daughter, Mrs. J. H. Franklin; three sons, Robert M., D. Locke and Dr. J. H. Crumley; and three sisters, Mrs. Henry P. Scates, Mrs. Fannie Wright and Mrs. H. R. Berry.

CATTSMAKES BOND IN PEONAGE CASE

Pensacola, Fla., May 23.—Sidney J. Catts, former governor of Florida, appeared before a United States commissioner here today and made bond in the sum of $2,500 to appear June 13 to enter a plea in connection with his indictment here by the federal grand jury for peonage.

United States District Attorney McNeeley stated he would require one week to examine Catts' plea and that his trial probably would begin June 4.

Catts was arrested Saturday in Albany, Ga. He visited Starke, Fla., yesterday, where he posted $5,000 bond as a result of his indictment there several weeks ago by the Bradford county grand jury which charged he had accepted $700 while governor and chairman of the state board of pardons for his influence in obtaining a pardon for a man serving a life sentence for murder.

OBREGON EXPECTED TO REJECT OFFER

BY RALPH H. TURNER.
United News Staff Correspondent.
Washington, May 23.—President Obregon, of Mexico, will decline to "sign on the dotted line" any guarantee for the price of American recognition, in the opinion of Manuel Telles, charge d'affaires of the Mexican embassy here.

"I expect President Obregon to refuse to sign a protocol, if submitted to him by the United States for two principal reasons," said Telles, in commenting on the memorandum prepared at the state department for presentation to Obregon, by George H. Sumnerlin, American charge in Mexico City. Sumnerlin was expected to leave New York Monday night on his return to Mexico.

"Firstly," Telles continued, in an exclusive interview, "to demand that Obregon sign such a document would be contrary to all principles of international law. Mexico is a legally constituted state with a legal government. Treaties may be required of the United States, prior to recognition, but they are not required of new governments.

"Secondly, Obregon's accession to such a demand would be interpreted in Mexico as a marked concession to the United States—his political enemies would charge that he had yielded to this country and he would be placed in a delicate position."

Telles said he was loath to believe that this government had adopted a policy of trying to "force something" upon Mexico.

He hoped, he said, that the decision of policy on the part of the state department would open the way to negotiations between the United States and Mexico, pointing out that there had been no direct discussions between the two nations since the advent of the Harding administration.

Officials at the state department declare this government has decided upon a definite Mexican policy, but decline to confirm reports as to the methods by which this policy will be applied.

$100,000 Fire in Tenn.

Nashville, Tenn., May 23.—A telephone message from Huntingdon, Tenn., says the business district of Trezevant, in Carroll county, was almost wiped out by fire Sunday night. The property loss estimated at over $100,000, included the two banks and postoffice.

FARMERS URGED TO PRESS ACTION ON PROBE MEASURE

Washington, May 23.—C. S. Barrett, chairman of the National Board of Farm Organizations and president of the National Farmers' union, has appealed to farmers everywhere to urge adoption by congress of a resolution creating a special commission to make an inquiry into the agricultural situation. Resolutions providing this have been introduced in both houses, and approved by committees.

With the creation of this commission, the farmers of the United States have reason to believe some of their most pressing problems will be solved," said Barrett. "They will at least know from an authoritative source the men and institutions who are collecting refinancing from their final customers."

BODY FOUND IN POND IDENTIFIED BY RINGS

Tampa, Fla., May 23.—The body of a woman found in a pond in a lonely section about eight miles north of here yesterday afternoon, was identified through finger rings this afternoon as that of Mrs. Aurora Hernandez of this city. Officials are investigating the possibility that she may have met with foul play, as an autopsy shows two ribs broken. She disappeared May 13.

Mrs. Thomas Is Presented Silver Goblets at Meeting

The presentation of the dozen silver goblets to Mrs. Irving Thomas, the popular president of the Atlanta Woman's club, with Mrs. Norman Sharp, the second vice-president, making the graceful remarks when the gift was given, was the feature of the most notable feature of yesterday afternoon's program, when the last spring meeting was held at the Woman's club on Peachtree street. Mrs. Thomas responded in a very happy and charming manner when she accepted the handsome goblets.

The meeting Monday afternoon marked the closing of the unusually brilliant regime of Mrs. Irving S. Thomas, the club president, has to her credit wonderful achievements. The most conspicuous event during her administration was the purchasing of the magnificent club house. This club has a clear title to the property, having paid the last installment several weeks ago. So rapidly has the membership grown that over eleven hundred representative women of the city are enthusiastic workers and a large number of the women of the city are attending regularly, this pointing the need of a municipal market building.

In Mrs. Thomas' closing address she paid special tribute to the loyalty of the officers and the members of the executive board serving with her, and to the loving cooperation of every member of the club.

A brilliant musical program was presented under the direction of Mrs. Charles Chambers who has been such an efficient chairman of music. The quartette from "Rigoletto" by the vocalists, Misses Willie Shields, Harry Johnson, Miss Willie Shields, Mr. Clarence Aldred and Mr. Charles Chambers, who all gave solos and were warmly applauded. Miss Elizabeth Hopson, who is a group of instrumental numbers in a very artistic manner. Victor Krieshaber, who is chairman of the home economics, received a large quantity of old and broken pieces of crockery, glassware and she will donate the proceeds from the sale of these articles to the auditorium fund.

Many of the graduates and students of the college were present to witness the event until this year.

Mrs. Watts will represent Dolly Madison in the centennial, which will be one of the most brilliant and important affairs staged in the south.

Monsieur and Madame Jusserand, of the French embassy in Washington, D. C., will also be among the distinguished visitors in Charlottesville, and will be entertained by Dr. and Mrs. Stephen Watts.

fective July 1, it is, of course, certain that they have taken them into consideration in making more optimistic predictions for the future of the carriers. The fact that operation costs must be cut is stressed, and in this connection it is asserted that some of the railroads already are benefiting by cheaper materials.

See Necessity.

Mr. Willard says that representatives of the railroads already are in conference with the interstate commerce commission with the purpose of removing inequalities and re-establishing proper relationship.

It is said that the railroads are awake to the fact that such readjustments are necessary if they are to prevent a large part of the tonnage of perishable farm products, moving from the southern and western coasts to eastern markets, being turned over to water carriers. Motor truck lines also are rapidly gaining business in short hauls in many districts, it is said, because of their present high level of railroad rates.

after the reconstruction period. His mother was America Young, daughter of one of the pioneers of Thomas county.

Mrs. MacIntyre entered the University of Georgia from which he graduated with honors in 1878. Immediately after graduation he farmed for a period of three years, after which he went to Savannah, Ga., engaging in the cotton business in which he was for years thoroughly successful. In 1895 he came to Atlanta.

While a democrat, he had no political aspirations. He was a member of the Capital City club and a member of the First Presbyterian church.

In 1886 Mr. MacIntyre was married to Miss Marie Randolph Whitehead, daughter of an old and prominent family of Burke county, coming of revolutionary stock. For a number of years he was a member of the firm of Haas & MacIntyre. Upon leaving the firm of Haas & MacIntyre, he became connected with MacIntyre, Scott, Knight & Co., a prominent insurance firm of the city, and there remained until his death.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed. Members of the family who are out of the city were notified by telegraph of the death.

Presbyterians Pick West Virginia City For Next Assembly

St. Louis, May 23.—Charleston, W. Va., was chosen for the next general assembly of the Southern Presbyterian church at the sixty-first general assembly here today. Sessions will be held in the First Presbyterian church there.

The conference today received a telegram from the Northern Presbyterian conference at Winona Lake, Ind., expressing hope that they "would undertake such action as will secure the reunion of our two kindred bodies."

Reference of numerous reports to committees and discussions of the budget occupied most of the early sessions today. A telegram from the World Alliance of Churches on disarmament was referred to the standing committee on foreign correspondence.

Foreign missions, Christian education and ministerial relief were set for discussion tomorrow. Nearly 100 overtures, including recommendations for religious participation of women in the affairs of the church were before the committee of the general assembly today.

One overture would bar women from all activity, including foreign missions, Christian endeavor supervision, attendance at assemblies and speaking in church and in the street.

EVANGELICAL UNION OF CHURCHES URGED

Winona Lake, Ind., May 23.—Efforts to obtain a union of the evangelistic churches in the world should be continued, it was declared today at the 23d general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A.

The assembly voted to adopt a recommendation of the committee on church co-operation and union that this committee be permitted to take up with the ad interim committee of the council on organization of the evangelical churches the advisability of further negotiations for union on a world-wide basis. A proposal that the Presbyterian church cease all activities toward a union was voted down by a shout of noes.

The average salary of Presbyterian ministers now is $1,000 a year, according to Dr. Henry B. Master, secretary of the board of ministerial relief and sustentation. Dr. Master is presenting the committee's report upon elders attending the assembly that they bring to the attention of the individual churches the necessity for higher salaries. Increased pensions should also be granted, Mr. Master declared, stating the present maximum of $500 a year should be increased to $1,000. Final action on the committee's report was reserved for the late afternoon session.

BOY SCOUTS WILL HELP ADVERTISE CHILD PLAYROOM

A detachment of boy scouts will take the streets Monday for the purpose of showing mothers who are in the business district an ideal place to leave their children while they make the rounds of their shopping tour. This is the Peachtree Arcade playroom, conducted by the home economics department of the Atlanta Woman's club.

Ample amusement is furnished the children, and capable matrons care for them. Every day hundreds of mothers go shopping with their children, and are obliged to pay more attention to the children than to the shopping. The result is they so home tired.

Literature will be distributed by the scouts setting forth the benefits to be derived from mothers taking advantage of this rest room. The work of the scouts will be to make mothers cognizant of the fact that the playroom is an ideal one for the youngsters.

ATLANTA LOVERS OF MUSIC EAGER FOR BORI'S RETURN

Music lovers of Atlanta are looking forward with great interest to the return to Atlanta of Lucezia Bori, the Spanish soprano, who will appear here next Monday night, May 30, in concert with Alberto Salvi, the sensational Italian harpist.

Miss Bori is well known to Atlanta, her voice and personality having been distinctly featured the season of Metropolitan grand opera just past, and it is with a great deal of anticipation that Salvi is awaited. Especially since it has been reported that his artistry with the harp is so startling as to give a new aspect to the possibilities of that instrument.

The seat sale for the concert will open next Thursday morning at the store of the Cable Piano Co., the proceeds from the concert to be devoted to the fund for the starving women and children in Ireland being raised by the American Society for Relief in Ireland.

Special machines are now designed for testing the alertness and other abilities of telephone operators in England, according to a recent report.

Prices quoted on Swift & Company sales of carcass beef in Atlanta, Ga., for week ending Saturday, May 21, 1921, on shipments sold out, ranged from 14 cents to 17 1/2 cents per pound and averaged 16 1/2 cents per pound.—(adv.)

Healthy Mother Merry Children Happy Home

TO maintain a happy home the housewife must keep in good health. Her duties are many and various, and it seems as if every other member of the family depended very much on her.

"Where is my hat?" cries the boy.

"What did you do with my coat?" asks the daughter.

"I can't find any handkerchiefs," yells the husband.

The housewife is usually the advisor and general manager of the family.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helps women to maintain a happy home by keeping them in good health.

Bloomington, Ill.—"I have taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has done me a wonderful sight of good. I was never very strong and female trouble kept me weak so that I had no interest for my housework. I had such a backache I could not cook a meal or clean up a room without raging with pain. I would rub my back with alcohol and it would ease for a few hours, but after I had taken three bottles of Vegetable Compound my aches began to gradually leave me. Now I am as strong and healthy as any woman and I give my thanks to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for my health." Mrs. J. A. McQuitty, 610 W. Walnut St., Bloomington, Ill.

Dante, So Dakota.—"I would have pains and cramps every month until I could hardly stand it and could not do my work all at that time and often had to go to bed. I went to a physician, but he did not do me much good and said I would have to have an operation. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspaper and thought, 'I would give it a trial. Now I feel lots better and don't have to give up and go to bed, and can do all my work. You may use these facts as a testimonial, and I will answer with pleasure all letters I receive, and you may see sure I will reward your wonderful cure.' Mrs. J. A. McQuitty, 610 W. ## Bobby Jones With Seven Mates Win in First Round of Tourney

Southern Champion Defeats Manford 3 and 2; Evans, Fownes and Oulmet to Second Round.

PLATT IS INJURED.
Hoylake, May 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—J. Wood Platt, of Philadelphia, injured his knee in a fall last night and will be unable to play in the amateur golf championship tournament, as his injury will prevent him from walking during the next four days.

His injuries were reported to be so severe as to require stitches and setting in splints. Platt was paired with Major H. A. Boyd, of Fort Marnock, in the first round. News that it would be impossible for him to play caused a keen disappointment among the American contingent.

Platt was paired with Major H. A. Boyd, of Fort Marnock, in the first round. News that it would be impossible for him to play caused a keen disappointment among the American contingent.

The eight survivors are Bobby Jones, Chick Evans, Frances Oulmet, Captain W. C. Fownes, J. F. Wright, J. H. Douglas, those who topped out of the classic today were Ray Thorne, and J. V. O'Neil, who withdrew owing to injuries received in a fall yesterday.

Fownes was the only one of the survivors who did not actually play, having received a walkover through the scratching of his opponent. The early American play did not seem to be up to yesterday's form in the international, probably due somewhat to the very cool weather, which continued until mid-afternoon.

The opening of the championship brought not only unfavorable news for the American style of play, but news that J. Wood Platt, who had been expected to be a contender, had been injured. He appeared on the course on crutches, however.

Considerable surprise was expressed by the golfers here at the fact that Bobby Jones encountered the hands of G. C. Manford. He was driving with his usual reliability, but suffered on the greens through short and narrowly missed putts. On several occasions he was lucky with bad lies.

The only members of the regular American golf team eliminated from the series is Platt. Neither Thompson, Manty, Hunt nor Fownes is a member of the team. These competitors, while Americans, entered the tournament independently.

About 200 early risers were on the links at 8:30 o'clock when Bobby Jones drove off the first ball. Jones did not find the greens so true on Saturday due to the damp and overcast weather, however, despite a southeasterly breeze.

The "Homer Race."
The Giants laid off owing to rain, so George Kelly had no chance for a homer, but Babe Ruth, out in St. Louis, had a good day.

Babe popped out in the first, got a life on an error and scored a run in the fourth and walked and scored another in the sixth. Babe took another stroll in the ninth but expired on the first corner, some of the crowd, thinking it was not a sack at all, but more properly a cuboid object with an epidemics of canvas.

B. H. S. WINNER IN 10TH FRAME Travelers Drive Cliff Markle From Mount and Win Final Game

BY FRED HANEY.
Dubby White, star right hander of the Boys' High school team, and Buddy Starnes, best on the Tech High roster, engaged in one of those heart-breaking pitching duels yesterday afternoon on the Ponce de Leon diamond, a battle in which White came out with the honors of the game.

Starnes, in the ninth inning after he had walked one man had three balls on the next one without any strikes and no outs, was forced to leave the park with defeat written on his record.

White won his own game in the tenth frame by squeezing a runner across the pan by a beautifully placed bunt. Tech High started out with a rush and during the first three innings it seemed the Smithies would walk away with the game.

In the fourth stanza, however, Mr. Smith got the first hit of the day for the Purple Hurricane by doubling to right field, but it seemed that he would be stranded on the keystone sack for the next batter whiffed at right field, but it seemed that he took his seat back on the bench.

White then strode to the pan and cracked the second ball almost to the right field dump, Williams killing it after a hard run. Smith taking third on this hit. Robertson singled to center and scored Smith. C. Smith followed Robertson with a single, but Roane sacrificed three times, ending the frame.

First Blood.
Tech High drew first blood when they sent one runner over the plate in the third inning. Weatherly first up received a base on balls; Murray singled, sending Weatherly to second; Richardson hit a home run, which killed Weatherly at a single, but Roane sacrificed three times, ending the frame.

Starnes continued to score in the fourth inning. Carroll, first up, was given a free ticket to the park. Starnes hit a home run, which killed Weatherly at a single, but Roane sacrificed three times, ending the frame.

Battling Budd Beaten by Ferns In Great Struggle at New Club

Miller's Young Pugilist
Weathers Battler's Onslaught and Comes Thro'
With Victory.

BY CLIFF WHEATLEY.

There is nothing left to the Budd of old except the indomitable fighting spirit that has made this boy one of the most popular ring favorites Atlanta has known in years. The "old-two" punch that brought him victory, the quick recuperative powers that marked his performance less than a year ago, and the deadly accuracy of his blows are missing—something that the passage of years can't steal away—but the Budd is still the same old Budd, the same old Budd who has been beating the ten-round limit since last night, pitted against the earnest Ferns, Walk Miller's sterling young pugilist.

There is something pathetic about Budd's slipping. He isn't old enough to feel his age; physically he looks as good as he ever did; his battle is still the methodical, cool, well-thought-out campaign that once proved so effective. But only in brief flashes did Budd show any of his old-line goodness, as he was easily weathered by his younger opponent; fiery while the fight was on, and when pestered out as the struggle unfolded.

Was Favorite.
The battler was the crowd's favorite—just as he always is—but those staunch friends of Budd's voiced no complaint over the verdict. They saw Budd stage a gallant fight for round after round, but they also saw him weaken as the going went on, and the finish found him a dejected fighter. His friends cheered to the last, no shift of allegiance was evidenced, but that crowd knew that the fearless one's day had come—that Budd was licked.

The battle was one that completely satisfied the fair house of customers of Miller's young pugilist. When the boys grappled through the ropes, friendship ceased, they both knew it and both set in to make the fans realize that fact. There was no time lost and the opening frame was a fine one.

Budd had a slight cut under his left eye and Ferns' first offering was sent toward this target. He missed and Budd came in with two hard rights to the jaw. The boys ran into a clinch, and Ferns put in some hard fighting that made Budd wince. When the fearless one missed a wicked uppercut, Budd hit him in the hard right, but Ferns stepped in with a right that evened Budd's advantage. Round was over.

Second Round.
The second round was another even affair, though one might slip hairs and give it to Ferns. Budd was great during the first minute of the round, sticking through three rights that hurt. But as the round drew to a close, Ferns put in some more of his good work at close range, and landed three ripping uppercuts that left Budd in trouble.

Ferns' first round was the third, when a whirlwind attack kept Budd guessing throughout the frame. Budd went to the ropes under the bombardment and was forced to taste some pretty hot stuff, breaking away finally and landing a hard right. As the gong sounded, Ferns established connection with another uppercut and earned the round easily.

Ferns' best work was being done at blank range, and he continued his tactics during the fourth, earning another round. His footwork was puzzling, enabling him to evade most of the carefully aimed drives that Budd was offering. Budd was badly hurt when Ferns struck on a new stunt, hitting out from a half crouch blows that carried considerable weight with them, and which must have stunned Miller's lad pulled this trick three times before Budd solved the puzzle. Too late to save the round, which went to Ferns.

Budd's Comeback.
Budd's comeback in the fifth was strong, and he earned his first round of the fight. Ferns was still elusive, but Budd succeeded in sticking in enough rights to give him the round. The sixth was a repetition of Budd improving in his fighting at close range to such an extent that he opened a cut over Ferns' eye, playing on this spot during the remainder of the round. The eighth was even, and so was the fight, but the ninth was won by a big margin. The rush came after the round had progressed a minute. Starting in the middle of the ring, Ferns drove Budd to the ropes with a steady rain of blows to the face and wind, the work continuing on the ropes, where the gong caught them.

The Prells.
In the semi-final, Tiger Flowers, a dusky fighter from Brunswick, had an easy time with Jim Fain, Montreal. Fain looked like a whirlwind, but flurried at the close of the second round; spent the third minute in a soft place, and found it in his own corner during the fourth, when a left uppercut sent him sprawling half across the arena. Fain stayed down until Referee Miller tolled off the fatal count, spat out a mouthful of blood and teeth, grinned at the spectators and went his way.

In the second bout of the night, Frankie Conway scored a technical knockout over Shifty Allen, Miller stopping the bout in the third. Allen's helpless condition being so apparent that murder would probably result had he been permitted to continue. In the first match, Frankie Smith and Battling Benson fought six fast rounds, Smith winning the judges' decision. The bill was opened by young newbies.

It was announced from ringside that Kid Ketchum and Dummy Barrington, Birmingham, would be the headline attraction on the next card. Young Ketchum, a local sensation, is also billed to appear.

Bradley Fined.
Nashville, Tenn., May 23.—Hugh Bradley, first baseman for the Nashville team, was fined $100 and indefinitely suspended for breaking training rules, according to a statement from Manager Bob Ewing tonight. Bradley failed to appear at the ball park for today's game with Chattanooga.

BOBBY LOOKING 'EM OVER

BOBBY JONES.

This is the first picture of Bobby Jones snapped on British soil. Bobby won his first match yesterday in the tournament for the British amateur championship, playing against G. C. Manford, 3 and 2. They both grin the "Jones smile" and England's golf experts are commenting on the fact that our Bobby keeps it with him all the time.

BOBBY HAD TOUGH FIGHT WITH MANFORD

ten feet to the hole. It was disheartening work for Seymour, but one couldn't help admiring the youngster's persistence and control.

Dr. Paul Hunter, of Los Angeles, put up some great stuff against young Carter, of Ireland, and didn't give Great Britain much chance of winning the match as it was inevitable. I remember Paul as one of the coming hopes of America as far back as 1911. He is a better golfer now than he was in those far-off days.

Situation to Date.
Tuesday, that big sledge gun, Jesse Guillard, goes into action against Phil Tolley—which should be a great match. The man who will win probably will be the man who doesn't attempt to outdrive the other. But can either of them resist the temptation? I doubt it.

Here is the situation today—Francis Ouimet has been playing well, but he wasn't as accurate in the first day's match as he has been; Bobby Jones had a very good round, but he was internally shaky; Paul Hunter is playing great golf, on the average as good and perhaps a bit better than that of the big three.

One is not inclined to anticipate why any possibly happen to your boys, having beaten up a few more Britishers, have to meet each other. But it is a fact that they have quite a few good golfers left in the British fold.

Manford, whom Bobby Jones met in the second round, was the reputed dark horse from Edinburgh, where many good golfers come from. There wasn't a very demonstrative gallery, in spite of its size. Phil Tolley, however, was one of those who was keenly interested in the boy's work.

See-Saw Match.
The match see-sawed until the fourth hole, when Jones consistently overdriving by thirty or forty yards, but putting hesitatingly and continually short. Manford's early putt was little short of sensational, hitting Jones to win the hole with 4, once more tying the match.

Both boys miscalculated the breeze on the seventh hole, which was halved with 4. Jones used his brassie on the eighth, while Bobby used an iron. The Scotman underlined his shot and Jones over-running. Both missed putts, subsequently sinking the ball for a paring 5.

At the ninth, Jones broke away from Manford, who had been approaching the third green beautifully, after Jones had overdriven his ball, and the Britisher holed in four. The fourth, where both became trapped, was divided four each.

Both were driving evenly on the fifth hole, but Bobby's second iron shot was short against the breeze, while Manford landed in the rough at the edge of the green, and they halved the hole again.

At the sixth hole, Manford drove into a bunker at the start, subsequently landing in the roughes at the side of the green. Jones bungled, missing a short putt, but Manford's second putt, hitting Jones to win the hole with 4, once more tying the match.

Seventh hole, Manford miscalculated the breeze on the seventh hole, which was halved with 4. Jones used his brassie on the eighth, while Bobby used an iron. The Scotman underlined his shot and Jones over-running. Both missed putts, subsequently sinking the ball for a paring 5.

FIRST WORK FOR GEORGES

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

(United News Staff Correspondent)
Mannasset, L. I., May 23.—In the drafty old barn where the gymnasium was located on the Matthews place, swept by a raw breeze, Georges Carpenter stripped down to his skivvies and took chances on pneumonia Monday afternoon to put on an exhibition workout for the new recruits.

First Georges put in five minutes cuffed "le ballon," as they call a beach bag when it's inflated, with French atmosphere. Then he took a few swipes and pokes at the sandbag, missing most of the heavy blows purposely to save his hands, and turned from that to rope-skipping.

After Georges pranced about the old barn floor, raising a little cloud of dust every time he stepped, he shoes hit the boards. He did rope-steps that the little girls of Hester street, where he kept his gymnasium, competitive sidewalk sport, never heard of, and even went through the footwork of shadow boxing without missing. When Francois Descamps, perched on a beam, finally called time, and Trainer Gus Wilson covered Georges' shoulders with a crepe chausseuse bathrobe with a pommes frites design, the French fighter's skin was shiny with moisture.

More Exercise.
After a minute's rest Georges again stripped down to his skivvies and took chances on pneumonia Monday afternoon to put on an exhibition workout for the new recruits.

Lindale in Victory.
Lindale, Ga., May 23.—(Special.)—With Lindale playing errorless ball behind two pitchers, they defeated Griffin today by a score of 7 to 0. The game was tied in the fifth when Herndon hit a home run, after which Griffin was wide-eyed and ror. Mittwee walked and Earl Griffin drove home on a single. Griffin lost the eighth when, after Herndon had purposefully batted, Griffin was hit by a short, who booted it to the outfield and Herndon counted before the ball was thrown.
